PAPA'S BOY. A haby boy With two bright eyes And laughing mo Fast hither flies As papa's footsteps homeward come, A Joyful spring. A call so sweet,

Then papa's arms Around him meet-Was ever happier welcome home? A loving kiss, Then off he goes-

There's much to do, And busy is this little man. But tired of work. He turns to play; He calls papa, And rans away To hide as fast as e'er he can

With cheery laugh And romping gice He backward looks. While merrily His papa enters in the chase. And then what fun When papa's eyes Search quickly round, And with surprise

Spy out the baby's hiding place! A forn, a twist, A scampering off Of little feet, And tiny acoil

At papa's vein and haffled grasp; A loguish smile, A cry of joy-The play is down, And papa's boy Is cafe and sound in mamma's clasp. BUTTERIULK.

HIC JACET.

The Death of the National Base-Ball Club.

Local base-ball is pretty well played out for this season. The Nationals have gone up, but paid all debts honorably. Of the members, Trott, Weidman, Farrell, Mansell, and Smiley have gone to join the Albany Nine, and Powell has secured an engagement with the Detroit Club It seems too bad that the interest should so thoroughly die out in this city, which has furnished so many good players in the past. Washington has probably supplied more cork-screw fingers, dislocated wrists, shoulders, and noses, more black eyes, cut lips, and wounds upon almost every portion of the human body, resulting from base-ball, than any other city of the same size in the country. And the young amateurs who have been in the habit of banging each other up, in the hope that they would one day become professionals and earn a salary, will now be at a loss for occupation. Some of the best players in the country have been connected with our local clubs, and governmental positions have been utilized as salaries, a shortstop oftentimes readily obtaining office when an intelligent young man, with good education, and backed by a whole congressional delegation, would fail. It is believed, however, that the baseball people are not dead, but only in a comatose state, and that there will be a renewal of life, a resurrection of interest, next year. THE LINCOLN MONUMENT.

Plans for Its Removal and Ornamentation.

It is the purpose of the District Engimeer to remove Flannery's monument of Lincoln. which stands in front of the City Hall, thirty feet back toward the court-house, into a parking of forty by one hundred fee waize, with a centre and two side approaches, having walls and coping similar to that used around the Capitel grounds, ornamented with cut stone. The base of the monument is to be lowered about three feet, which will give a more pleasing effect. It is intended also to place about the monument four handsomely ornamented lamps. Plans for these changes are now being prepared under the direction of Lieutenant F. V. Greene, with a view to ascertain the cost, and in the event of their adoption an appropriation will be asked for from Congress next winter to carry them into effect. The street and the approaches to the City Hall will, however, be made convenient, and the work finished up in the ordinary way until the changes are authorized. _.

Texas Girls. Texas girls are pretty, and are great firts; but, like the Louisville girls, they will powfather and mother. A Texas girl matures early, marries at eighteen, and goes all to pieces at twenty-four. Whether she has children or not, collapses, gets poor in flesh, her eyes grow large and prominent, and the little flesh she had almost totally disappears. I find this is always the case with the women in hot climates. It's so in Cuba and Spain, and South America. Then, the Texas girls never have rosy cheeks. If their cheeks are like the rose it is the white rose. The Texas girl's present happiness or future hope in the line of jewelry is a long gold chain to go around the neck twice, hang half-way down the dress skirt, and finally attach itself to a watch.-Chicago Tribune.

Jeff Davis a Fool. If Jeff Davis wasn't such a rock-ribbed old Bourbon there are figures staring him right in the face that would convert him from his belief that slavery was a heaven-born blessing. In the last fifteen years, under free labor, the South has raised nearly ten million bales of cotton more than it has in any fifteen years of slavery, and the value of the cotton was $65 a bale, or an increase in the value of its staple of $650,000,000,-Chicago Inter-

On Tuesday last the ornamented top was placed on the monument to the confederate dead at Portsmouth. The monument is now complete, with the exception of the inscription and statuary. It has cost, so far, some $6,500.

MAKING HIS OWN BUTTER. Experience of a Man Who Wouldn't Eat

Oleomargarine. A man who resides in the suburbs of Oil City recently purchased some oleomargarine. He didn't know it until he had eaten it. That made him mad. Of course it did. People don't like to eat butter and then find out it was oleo-Well, he swore he would be deceived no more; no, never. He would make his own butter. He bought a cow. He milked the cow. That is to say, his wife did: but as man and wife are one, in reality he milked the cow. In time cream rose on the milk.

It rose in goodly quantities and was collected by the wife. On Saturday evening, as the man was starting out to spend the evening, the wife remarked: "You must come home early, so as to get up in the morning and churn the butter before going to

He said he would He came home early-in the morning. . . About two p'clock. His wife remarked, distinctly-"Now, sir, I want you to prepare-"

That was sufficient. She soon after rose. . He retired, without the formality of removing his boots. She was mad. He was sleepy.

Being mad, she churned the butter and put it away, leaving the buttermilk in the churn. Being sleepy, he did not hear her. Before leaving for church she wiped the outside of the churn, concealed the butter and left the buttermilk in the churn She also left a note, telling him the churn was already for him to commence operations. He said: "D-d-d-dash 'er churn.' It was a dasher-churn.

"Two pair-hie-no good."

He feared his wife, as all men do, and commenced churning.

He commenced at nine o'clock. At half-past nine he looked to sec if it was It did not appear to be.

At a quarter-past ten he looked again, Result of inspection not encouraging. At twenty minutes to eleven, perspiring freely, e happened to think of the bottle of brandy kept in the house for medicinal purposes,

The butter was not "coming," neither was his But the brandy was forthcoming. He drank beavily. At a quarter to twelve he stopped again and nade another examination. Result was to warrant another drink. He was getting mad. At half-past twelve he took a lunch and continued churning. At ten minutes past one he looked to see if his vife was coming. She was not-nor was the butter, At half past two he could stand it no longer. And, therefore, took another drink,

Then he churned five minutes.

He then swore a few minutes

Next he took his gun and loaded it. At twenty minutes past three he dropped down ompletely exhausted. Ten minutes later he had demolished the churn with a hatchet, and was just going out to shoot the cow when his wife came in almost breathless and put him to bed.-Oil City Derrick.

TO BEAT THE BEST RECORD.

Rarus and Edwin Forrest to Trot Against Time-A Mile in 2:08.

"Why, they all want to go on the river just when I want to play lawn tennist" "Well, you needn't the best time on record. A Sun reporter asked go with them." "Of course I needn't, but how my to play lawn tennis all by myself?"—London Mr. Bonner yesterday whether he proposed to trot these horses against time. He replied: "If I can get Rarus and Edwin Forcest into a satisfactory condition I may give an exhibition trot in August. I have not arranged details, but either the Prospect Park or Hartford track will fleetwood track fast enough. I think either Edwin Forrest or Rarus ought to beat 2:10, and the former driver of Rarus, Splann, thinks he can go in 2:08. Both horses have trotted in 2:111/4 on a three-quarter track, which is considered by porting men better than 2:10% on a mile track. You see, on a three-quarter track you go round a you traverse a circle of forty-two acres. It is easy o understand that in the former case the turns are much more abrunt than in the latter. No half. nor any three-quarter track as fast as a mile track A week ago to-day I drove Edwin Forrest to a top wagon, 356 pounds, in 2:221/4, and at present he is | 53% alo second series, 421/4; new ten-forties, 55 bld to-day. in better shape than any other horse I've got. Republicans and Independent Democrats, held a necting last evening in the Buckhall district school-house for the purpose of forming a camand thirty-four names were presented for membership of the club, but, some of them not being resent, and having sent word that they would be on hand at the next meeting (Saturday evening, June 25) it was voted to postpone the permanent organization till that time, when a much larger number would be present to take part in the proceedings. Mr. Charles Bennett addressed the club on the issues of the campaign, and moved the following resolution, which was unanimously

It, meets with our cordial approbation, and we hereby assure him of our co-operation and support, and ail men like him, in an earnest effort to place Virginia in the vanguard of progress.

The platform of principles of the Readjuster convention at Richmond was read by the chairman, and after remarks by Mr. William O. Richards, Bennett, Farrington, and others, the platform was adopted, and the nominations of the convention of Cameron, Lewis, and Blair, for Governor, lieutenant-governor, and attorney-general, were procure a speaker for the next meeting, when the club adjourned, to meet at the same place on the 25th instant at eight o'clock p. m. A white "innatic from North Carolina, named Nathan Lee, about whom no other information can be obtained, has been confined in the jail at Petersburg for several months. Every effort has been made to discover something about his family and friends, but without a vail. The man's condition, both mentally and physically, is very bad.

It is thought to be certain that a regatle, at which the boat clubs of the State will be generally represented, will take place at Lynchburg during the summer. Correspondence to that committee appointed in that behalf by the Tobacco City Club are highly encouraged by the replies received.

An interesting relic of Thomas Jefferton has come into the possession of Rev. Alexander Sprunt, pastor of the Old Stone Church at Staunion. It is a massive sideboard of solid manageny, even to the Inside of the drawers, which are as capacious as the interior of a modern Saraloga trunk. The style is very antique columns with brass mountings at the ends and fine finish it had been purchased at a fermiture sale at Monticello in 1844.
